How do I search for a document in OregonPDF in Health & Performance?

OregonPDF in Health & Performance doesn't search in the same way as other databases or search engines. If you enter two words into the search blank, your results will show those where your keywords are EXACTLY next to each other. For instance, as shown before, we know there is a document on women soccer coaches entitled The most desired characteristics of an intercollegiate women's soccer team head coach from the student-athlete's perspective. However, only the searches for "soccer," "coach," and "women" list that document because while the document is on the topic of the remaining searches, none of those searches match the wording in the title or abstract EXACTLY. So, it is better to search by ONE word at a time and scroll through the results.

- soccer – 132 results – HAS IT!
- coach – 136 results – HAS IT!
- coaches – 349 results – NOT THERE
- women – 1082 results – HAS IT!

How do get a copy of a document that doesn't have a PDF link?

If you need the document quickly, you can retrieve the microfiche copy from P.E. Microfiche and print it off using a microfiche machine. However, if that is not an option for you, you can request that the document be converted into PDF form. Just click on the link provided and fill out the contact information. Once the conversion is complete, you will be emailed. You will then be able to re-search for the document and view it in PDF form. OregonPDF in Health & Performance indicates that they plan to have a 24 hour turn-around for such conversions.
